

A useful poem for if you break a kitchen stool in someone's house

I have a little worry
And I am very sorry
That sadly there's an issue with the stool.

You see, I sat on it quite normally
But it acted informally,
And really made me feel like a fool!

So your stool is broken
But it was not my fault.

Here is my idea –
Return it to Ikea.