

Girls' World Forum - Poem

Back home in a place called the UK
I write poems when I've something to say.
So lend me your ears and listen awhile -
Hopefully this offering will make you smile.

So here we are in Chicago,
We've come together to learn, to grow.
Some travelled far, others live near,
Some drove a few blocks, others travelled for a year.

So we're exploring three MDGs
Learning to bring about change -
We've tried all sorts of activities,
Really quite a range.

MDGs 1, 7 and 3 are critical for you and me,
And our sisters, friends and relations.
We have to go tell our organisations
That as Girl Guides and as Girl Scouts

There is absolutely no doubt
That we are the people to bring about change
Through action, engagement and using a range of communication -
Facebook, Twitter, let's e-mail the nation!

So we're writing our plans on how to take action
So our MOs and Councils will see the attraction,
We've brainstormed, we've chatted, we've thought, we've discussed,
Soon be ready to deliver and deliver we must!

So friends, enjoy this unique celebration,
Embrace the diversity of every nation -
Work together and don't be shy.
That's all from me - farewell, goodbye.
