

#LocationPlumsteadStation

Is it the land of chicken shops,
Hairdressers, God-blessers?

Lovely Plumstead

Mean Waterloo

I'd rather be in Plumstead –

Wouldn't you?

Together, together, together, wooh!

Singing carnival in my head

Though others dream of Christmas instead.

Raindrops drown out those negative things

As hope is what precipitation brings

My partner and I are off to Oz

To live there for four years because

Winter is coming and we hate the cold,

I think it's because we are getting old.

So Plumstead, we are saying farewell

As here we no longer wish to dwell.

I am excited, delighted to know

There are still some

Who cherish words

And think poetry's fun.

Hoping and praying it lasts a long time –

Sending all good wishes to Sublime Rhyme.
